

Link to Article

5 Vacation Ideas for Theater Lovers

Add local theater to your next itinerary in these vibrant cities across America.

By Amy Whitley, Contributor | July 6, 2017, at 9:39 a.m

Enjoy a Kid-Friendly Show in Miami

If you want to plan a family vacation filled with sun, sand and culture in Miami, tack on a trip to the city's vibrant downtown and midtown. Home of the Adrienne Arsht Center for the Performing Arts, this cultural hub in Miami is also within easy walking distance of the brand-new Frost Science. After a day at the museum learning about Floridian animal habitats and the solar system, cap off your day at the Arsht with a free Family Fest performance, designed specifically to introduce kids to the arts. If you can't make one of these performances, plan to attend Harry Potter in Concert (with live orchestra accompaniment) or their summer blockbuster, Slava's Snowshow, which runs for nearly a month through early August. As a bonus, a farmers market is located just outside the arts center during most of the season. And in terms of accommodations, the Hampton Inn & Suites Miami Midtown offers an enticing family-friendly lodging option.